

The grand levee at the Female Orphan Asylum on Monday evening was just the thing. A large and very pleasant company assembled in the Asylum house where they were cordially greeted by the white-haired managers who by the help of their friends had made very comfortable arrangements for their entertainment. The evening was spent in a very pleasant and agreeable manner. The whole party was entertained in a very comfortable and agreeable manner. The whole party was entertained in a very comfortable and agreeable manner.

The engagement of the house the past season has added greatly to its capacity, its convenience and its comfort. In this work great assistance has been rendered by Thomas A. Hill Esq. who has been given his services in superintending the work.

There was so much of enjoyment in the part of those who attended the Levee that, if the work is not too great, we would advise the manager to give another within a few weeks. There are a great many who could not attend the first levee but would gladly attend on the second, and then every body would be in a position to give a very agreeable and profitable time.

The Real Estate Register is the title of a new paper published in New York, by Francis H. Fleming devoted exclusively to the landed and building interest. It occupies a new station in the newspaper world, and promises to succeed. It is a paper of this nature, and will be the first of its kind in this country. It is a paper of this nature, and will be the first of its kind in this country.

Mr. Col. Hughes's advertisement in our paper is the most interesting and valuable one that we have seen. It is a paper of this nature, and will be the first of its kind in this country. It is a paper of this nature, and will be the first of its kind in this country.

Marine Disaster—Probable Loss of Life. Mr. James Brown, a resident of the Port of New York, has been reported to have been killed in a marine disaster. The ship was a large vessel, and was carrying a large cargo. The disaster occurred on Monday evening, and the ship was reported to have been lost.

The New Congress. The new Congress has been elected, and the results are as follows: The House of Representatives has elected 435 members, and the Senate has elected 96 members. The results of the election are as follows: The House of Representatives has elected 435 members, and the Senate has elected 96 members.

The Cincinnati Gazette states that the heirs to the estate of the late General James Taylor, of Newport, Ky., have determined to make the slaves belonging to it, about forty in number, with provisions for the aged and the young children. The will had been set aside, and an equitable division made of the main body of property left by the General.

The Union of Sunday contains a telegraphic despatch from a mint at Philadelphia, to which the California gold was transmitted for analysis. The despatch states that the gold is genuine. This may be regarded as an indication of the question as to the reality of the gold found in California.

This is the leading title of a work of interest as unfolding the character of the French people through their most cherished authors, and with the copious notes of Mr. Chase, giving a very clear and satisfactory insight into the character and his way of those writers who have been prominent in the late political events in Paris. Mr. Chase is eminently qualified for editing a work of this kind, having for some time been in Paris and held communication by his pen with the public Journals of the country.

There is no judge of modern French literature by the oceans of miserable trash with which the world has been flooded will find in this work the materials for a better judgment. There is much in it which is noble and elevating. It opens up to us the best writings in intellectual, philosophy, politics, history, criticism, poetry, romance and the drama.

This work is embellished with a beautiful portrait of Lamartine. Our copy of this interesting volume was received from E. F. Duren and other copies may be obtained at the Bookstore in the Gothic Block in this city.

For the Whig and Courier. The Levee at the Orphan Asylum Monday evening last, was an affair that reflected credit on all concerned, and particularly on the Managers of that Institution. There was a great turnout, and the house was crowded to overflowing. All present seemed to enjoy themselves, and the evening was spent in a very pleasant and agreeable manner.

It has long been the justly merited approval of the great Anglo-Saxon race, the English and the American, that they are a very different people from the French, and that they are a very different people from the French, and that they are a very different people from the French.
